5. Cincinnati Bengals

Key Players

- Joe Burrow
- Jamarr Chase
- Jessie Bates III

Current

Salary Cap

- $56 million
- 4th in the
NFL

Why Cincinnati?

Cincinnati shocked the league in the 2021-2022 season. They made it to the Super Bowl despite being a very young team. Cincinnati looks to continue their hot streak and are even more hungry after their Super Bowl LVI loss to the Rams. With a few additions to the team through free agency, Cincinnati hopes to return to the Super Bowl.

4. Green Bay Packers

Key Players

- Aaron Rodgers
- Davante Adams
- Jaire Alexander

Current Salary Cap

- $-37.5 million
- 31st in the NFL

Why Green Bay?

Green Bay had an unfortunate 2021-2022 season. With the possibility of it being Aaron Rodgers and Davante Adams last season in Green Bay, the Packers needed a ring. However, they came short losing in the divisional round to San Francisco. Assuming they re-sign Rodgers and Adams, most expect Green Bay to still contend for a championship.

3. Buffalo Bills

Key Players

- Josh Allen
- Stefon Diggs
- Tre'Davious White

Current

Salary Cap

- $-2.9 million
- 24th in the
NFL

Why Buffalo?

Buffalo fell short again, losing to the Kansas City Chiefs in the Divisional round of the playoffs. However, the Bills looked very strong throughout the season, and look to be contenders for the Super Bowl in Glendale.

2. Los Angeles Rams

Key Players

- Aaron Donald
- Matthew Stafford
- Cooper Kupp

Current Salary Cap

- $-19.8 million
- 29th in the NFL

Why Los Angeles?

Coming off a Super Bowl win, the Rams have a great chance to run it back and get another one. They are keeping most of their main pieces, and getting some key players back from injury. LA hopes to get back to the Bowl and “Run it Back” as they say.

1. Kansas City Chiefs

Key Players

- Patrick Mahomes
- Travis Kelce
- Tyrann Mathieu

Current Salary Cap

- $8.7 million
- 18th in the NFL

Why Kansas City?

Despite losing in the Conference Championship, the Chiefs had a great season after their slow start. The Chiefs overpowered, air raid offense has been a hard offense to stop since the rise of Patrick Mahomes. The Chiefs look to make it back to the Super Bowl
